

Reptile Rules

for Employees

Wash your hands thoroughly after you handle reptiles, their food or anything they have touched.

Cage reptiles in designated habitats; don't let them roam around the store.

Keep reptiles out of food preparation areas.

Don't nuzzle or kiss them.

Clean and sanitize reptiles' habitats often.

Keep reptiles away from children under 1 year of age or people with weakened immune systems. Children under 5 should handle reptiles only with adult supervision. Always remind them to wash their hands afterwards.

Educate your customers on safely handling their pet reptiles.

Reptiles carry Salmonella bacteria which can make people sick. In Washington state, recent cases of Salmonella have been traced to the handling of pet turtles, lizards, and snakes. To reduce your chance of infection and to protect others, follow these tips when handling any reptile. Be safe. Play by the rules!

Dear Colleague,

The Washington State Department of Health (DOH) is pleased to provide camera-ready art for printing this educational material. To ensure that the original quality of the piece is maintained, please read and follow the instructions below and the specifications included for professional printing.

- Use the latest version. DOH materials are developed using the most current information available, are checked for clinical accuracy, and are field tested with the intended audience to ensure they are clear and readable. DOH programs make periodic revisions to educational materials, so please check this web site to be sure you have the latest version. DOH assumes no responsibility for the use of this material or for any errors or omissions.
- Do not alter. We are providing this artwork with the understanding that it will be printed without alterations and copies will be free to the public. Do not edit the text or use illustrations or photographs for other purposes without first contacting us. Please do not alter or remove the DOH logo, publication number or revision date. If you want to use a part of this publication for other purposes, contact the Office of Health Promotion first.
- For quality reproduction: Low resolution PDF files are intended for black and white or color desktop printers. They work best if you are making only one or two copies. High resolution PDF files are intended for reproducing large quantities and are set up for use by professional offset print shops. The high resolution files also include detailed printing specifications. Please match them as closely as possible and insist on the best possible quality for all reproductions.
